

In her own words: "This is something between me and God."

"I saw a very good friend who needed some help (Pat Gardiner) and I said I will come out and help you once a month. Pat, you have put so much effort into the captioning at the church to help the hearing impaired and I want to see it continue."

"It has been amazing to see what it has brought out in all of us."

"There is unity among my family because we all participate in this together and you just grow from it."
